

Meeting with Pauline has really helped me to become a good host. Thanks to her I realized that I cannot fake it on screen!

She taught me how important it is to like, understand and respect myself in order for others to do so. That I cannot convince without being convinced.

She helped me to work with myself in a way that will help me for the rest of my life, both in my career and private life.

